INTRODUCTION
The purpose of this note is to provide detailed guidance on the context of the IOE Global Commission on the Future of Work (Global Commission) Report, by highlighting the strengths and weaknesses of the proposed recommendations and presenting an overall assessment in view of the 2019 International Labour Conference "Committee of the Whole" discussions on the Future of Work. In this note the recommendations have been reviewed considering their possible implementation in the next 100 years and with due consideration of the ambitions of the Global Commission.

Revised and updated by the IOE Secretariat, 22 January 2020. For more information, see the IOE website: <https://www.ioe.int/>
