

Share

Tweet

Share

Building the future of work together

n. 2/2020

SUBSCRIBE

Contributions

The private employment services industry continues to grow by expanding the range of HR services it provides to workers and companies
Denis Pennel

The Origins of Apprenticeships: Understanding its Functions and Value in the IV Industrial Revolution
Matteo Colombo

Labour Markets & Reforms

Don't blame it on the machines: Robots and employment in Europe
D. Klenert et al., Vox, February 2020

Undeclared work in the European Union – Report
European Commission, Special Eurobarometer 498, February 2020

Why EU action on minimum wages is so controversial—yet so necessary
A. Crespy, Social Europe, February 2020

This healthcare crisis will create millions of American jobs
K.E. Folley, World Economic Forum, February 2020

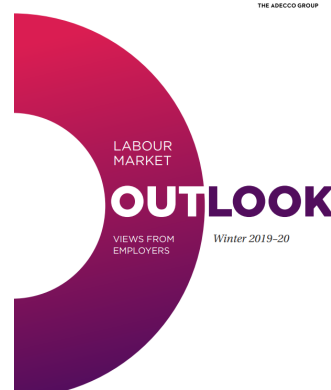

Demography & Migratory Fluxes

Focus

Economic Report 2020
WEC

LMO Winter 2019-20
CIPD, Adecco

Closing the Skills Gap: Know What Workers Want
Manpower

N. Langford, Speri, February 2020

The number of older workers is increasing fast, yet they face growing age discrimination

A. Zimmermann, LSE Blogs, February 2020

Refugees as assets not burdens. The role of policy

D. Bahar, M. Dooley, Brookings, Brooke Shearer Series n. 8/2020

This animation shows China and India's populations are ageing at different rates

J. Desjardins, World Economic Forum, January 2020

Digital Work & On-demand Economy

The mental health of workers in the digital era

European Parliament, February 2020

Gig economy's new deal for Silicon Valley's white-collar workers

P. McGee, Financial Times, February 2020

Towards the "Uber-isation" of Care?

A. Trojansky, European Economic and Social Committee, January 2020

Skills for the future

Improving workforce success among America's college students

H.J. Holzer, Brookings, February 2020

Apprenticeships: Who are they really for and is government funding benefiting those who need it most?

B. Newton, Institute for Employment Studies, February 2020

The share of immigrant workers in high-skill jobs is rising in the U.S.

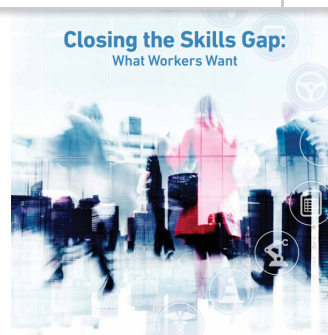

J. Bennet, Pewresearch.org, February 2020

258 million workers in the world are over-educated for their jobs

R. Gammarano, ILO, February 2020

Industrial Relations and Social Dialogue

4th quarter & FY 2019 results Randstad

Do robots really destroy jobs? Evidence from Europe European Commission

The Analytical Edge. Data led decision The Global Recruiter

A. Ponce De Castillo, ETUI, February 2020

ILR study could help unions protect workers' mental health

J. Greco, Cornell Chronicle, February 2020

Why trade unions at work do work

A. Enarsson, C. Melin, Social Europe, February 2020

Deutschland AG rethinks workers' role in management

The Economist, February 2020

The new firm

Automating Labor: Evidence from Firm-Level Patent Data

A. Dechezleprêtre et al., CEP, February 2020

Where Are the Robots?

G. Levanon et al., MITSloan Management Review, February 2020

Is That a Robot at My Desk? How to Survive on Wall St

L. Nguyen, J. Surane, Bloomberg, February 2020

Social innovation

What's Really Holding Women Back?

R.J. Ely, I. Padavic, Harvard Business Review, February 2020

Including racism in the discussion of wellbeing at work

S. Chander, Social Europe, February 2020

Finding Solid Footing for the Global Economy

K. Georgieva, IMF, February 2020

Finland Plans to Give All New Parents the Same Leave

I. Magra, The New York Times, February 2020

for the digital age

MIT Sloan Management Review

The social contract in the 21st century

McKinsey Global Institute

A world without work: technology, automation and how we should respond

D. Susskind

This message has been sent to: <<Email>>

Why have you received this email? | Unsubscribe | Update profile

Executive Director: Michele Tiraboschi (michele.adapt@gmail.com)

Director of ADAPT University Press: Matteo Colombo (matteo.colombo90@gmail.com)